

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

THE DIFFERENCE WE MAKE CONFERENCE

STAFFORDSHIRE FIRE AND
RESCUE SERVICE ARE HOSTING
A CONFERENCE ON THURSDAY,
NOVEMBER 15, 2018 AT THE
BEST WESTERN MOATHOUSE
HOTEL, FESTIVAL PARK,
STOKE-ON-TRENT, ST1 5BQ.

INSPIRATIONAL AND INTERESTING SPEAKERS

Tessa Dunlop, presenter and historian best known for her work on BBC2's Bafta- winning series Coast. She is the author of Times bestseller 'The Century Girls' and 'The Bletchley Girls'.

Susan Hanks, creator of Media Mouth, is a broadcaster, event host, voice over artist and education solutions provider. Former stand up comedienne Susan will laugh with you, share stories that will inspire you and remind you to always look on the bright side of life.

Nazir Afzal OBE, former Chief Crown Prosecutor for North West England and Chief Executive of the country's Police and Crime Commissioners. His prosecutions of the Rochdale grooming gang, BBC presenter Stuart Hall and hundreds of others were ground breaking and drove the work that has changed the landscape of child protection.

Carol Shanahan is Managing Director of Synectics which is a world-leading pioneer of data driven software solutions. Carol was awarded an Institute of Directors Regional Award for Corporate Social Responsibility in 2017. She is involved in various community initiatives including the Holiday Hunger programme.

MOTIVATING AND ENGAGING WORKSHOPS

'The Art of Being Brilliant' workshop aims to provoke plenty of thought and laughter. Trainer Andy Whittaker will share some 'secrets' of Positive Psychology, focussing on learning new habits of thinking and behaviour that will sustain personal 'brilliance' in and out of work.

'Letting in the light' and 'The Cultural Sisters' are participatory art companies who will deliver a creative workshop. You will design a unique flag inspired installation using an art technique called masking tape resist.
